"I've been very surprised here at Padua about the teacher-student relationship. I haven't really been in a spot like this where I could feel like I could go to a teacher and have them come and really address my needs personally."

Gina Blocker, Graduate

Our nationally recognized school is based on a balanced approach. Students participate in diverse courses from Science, Fine Arts, and Health, to Social Studies, Mathematics, and Religious Studies. Most subjects are taught using projects that require mastery of several areas and advanced educational technology. Further, community service and other school events give students more opportunities to apply their knowledge. With academic activities designed to integrate spiritual, personal, and social values, Padua is preparation for life.

Each girl receives individual attention and is encouraged to explore deeply her intellectual gifts. With smaller class sizes and dedicated teachers, Padua students are challenged at their own level. They discover their potential and graduate with great confidence to pursue any field at some of the most prestigious universities and colleges in the nation.
